Fishing report

Local lakes in Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin are doing good in spite of the many cold front conditions this year. The Northern Pike have been moving good on Southern Wisconsin Lakes. This fish is a Spoonpluggers gem so please be sure to practice catch and release. A 38" Pike is a mighty fine fish but he won't grow to be a 48" wall mounter if we eat him! Please practice CPR.

The Angsten brothers went to the Madison Chain in July and landed some chubby Northern Pike. Here's Chris with a chubby 40" Pike and his brother Keith with a healthy looking 38" Pike. The Madison Lakes support good numbers good size Northerns. So grab your brother and go. Nothing is better than Spoonplugging with your bro!

Bill and Frank Lorch fished Lake Kinkaaid for a couple of days on their way to Missouri and Lake Evergreen on the way home. The fishing was kinda tough but by checking and rechecking the best structures throughout the day the guys were able to make a catch. When working key structures multiple trolling passes were made to check the spots. Markers were used on key spots to make the precision trolling passes that were needed to check certain breaks and breaklines thoroughly. So when the fishing is tough like it usually is and you know the structures be accurate when checking them because if you only make a couple of half hearted trolling passes you will probably miss him.
